At the time of his death, R C Myers was assigned to the 4th squad, 2nd Platoon of Charlie Company, which was split from the Battalion Proper and under the Operational Control of "A" Company of the 2nd Battalion, 503rd Infantry, 173rd Airborne Brigade.

On May 11th, the platoon was to act as a blocking force for "A" Company 2/503rd which was sweeping from the East towards the positioned APCs of Myers' platoon. The men were to leave a few men with each APC and move on foot towards the sweeping troops of the 503rd. While in the "Point" (Lead) position, RC tripped an OED Booby Trap.

Although the medical evacuation Helicopter was able to arrive and extract RC within 15 minutes, there was no hope for him as his wounds were too severe. He never regained consciousness.

Combat Infantry Badge

HQ 173rd Airborne Brigade (Separate)                                                                                                  16 May 1967
General Orders Number 1254

For distinguishing himself by outstanding meritorious service in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam during the period 11 November 1968 to 11 May 1969. Through his untiring efforts and professional ability, he consistently obtained outstanding results. He was quick to grasp the implications of new problems with which he was faced as a result of the ever-changing situations inherent in the counterinsurgency operation and to find ways and means to solve those problems. The energetic application of this extensive knowledge has materially contributed to the efforts of the United States mission to the Republic of Vietnam to assist that country in ridding itself of the communist threat to its freedom. His initiative, zeal, sound judgment and devotion to duty have been in the highest tradition of the United States Army and reflect great credit on him and on the military service.
